PRESIDENT'S GREETING

Dear Colleagues,

Greetings once again from the Philadelphia Orthopaedic Society! Thanks to all those who continue to support our programs and enjoy the camaraderie and comfort of our new venue. Those in attendance last month were privileged to take in a sobering but enlightening lecture on pediatric gun violence given by Dr. Martin Herman. The captivating presentation laid bare the challenges and obstacles facing our city's youth, while providing an important perspective on the role we play in their future. There are few things that unite all of us more than caring for the children in our communities, and we applaud Dr. Herman's work toward this important goal.

Our third program this year will honor Dr. John L. Esterhai and his tremendous example of excellence in patient care, service, and leadership. A native of Philadelphia, Dr. Esterhai has distinguished himself in every possible way, from his military service as a flight surgeon, to his founding role in the creation of the Musculoskeletal Infection Society, and his ongoing involvement in the Veterans Affairs Medical Center and mission-based work to deliver quality care on an international level. Fittingly, this month's program will be given on Veteran's Day and feature a talk about the care of blast-injured extremities given by Lieutenant Colonel Jean-Claude G. D'Alleyrand, MD, Chief of Orthopaedic Surgery at the Corporal Michael J. Crescenz VA Medical Center here in Philadelphia on Monday, November 11. Please join us once again at The Pyramid Club, on the 52nd floor at 1735 Market Street, with the buffet beginning at 6pm and the presentation to start at 7pm. We continue to encourage as many of you as possible to attend, so please come and encourage your friends and colleagues to do the same.

Thanks to all of you that help keep the orthopaedic community here in Philadelphia so vibrant and see you on the 11th!

Warmest Regards,

Eric Levicoff, MD
President

PROGRAM CHAIR'S REPORT

This month's meeting happens to fall on November 11th, Veterans Day. Veterans Day is a day that we take time to acknowledge and celebrate those brave men and women who have served in the United States military defending the freedoms we hold dear. In our own attempt to honor and celebrate those among us who have served, we are excited to welcome Dr. Jean-Claude D'Alleyrand who is U. S. army retired Colonel with a decorated service history and extensive experience treating wounded soldiers. He has served in several deployments including Yemen, Africa and Afghanistan as well as numerous humanitarian missions. We very much look forward to honoring his service and learning from his experience as he will speak about "Initial Care of the Blast-Injured Extremity". We look forward to seeing everyone at the Pyramid Club this Veterans Day.
